

OHIOANS OVERWHELMINGLY SUPPORT FARMERS' ACCESS TO CROP PROTECTION TOOLS

The public has major concerns about the growing impact of litigation on food security and inflation

Modern Ag Alliance's inaugural sentiment survey confirms that Ohioans strongly support maintaining farmers' access to critical crop protection products like glyphosate. This support extends across party lines, with majorities of Republicans and Democrats siding with farmers on nearly every question asked. Trial lawyers, who are driving American agriculture toward a crisis by attacking farmers' tools, have extremely low levels of trust among Ohioans. Meanwhile, farmers enjoy high levels of public trust.

KEY SURVEY FINDINGS:

Ohioans oppose litigation that could limit farmers' access to critical crop protection tools

> 70% of farmers and 64% of all Ohioans, including 64% of Republicans and 67% of Democrats, oppose litigation that could limit access to crop protection products.
>
> 88% of farmers and 76% of all Ohioans, including 78% of Republicans and 76% of Democrats, support science-based policies for crop protection tools.

Ohio farmers overwhelmingly depend on crop protection tools to stay competitive

> 88% of farmers say crop protection products prevent crop loss and that restrictions on these tools would negatively impact their farms.
> 78% of farmers say pesticides make farming less expensive.

In Ohio, people trust farmers, not trial lawyers

> 71% of Ohioans trust local farmers, including 79% of Republicans and 64% of Democrats.
> Only 14% of Ohioans trust trial lawyers, including 14% of Republicans and 15% of Democrats.

Ohioans are deeply concerned that litigation will undermine domestic agricultural supply chains and U.S. food security

> 78% of farmers and 72% of all Ohioans, including 75% of Republicans and 71% of Democrats, worry that litigation will increase U.S. reliance on foreign suppliers, threatening U.S. food security.

Serious concern exists that litigation attacks on crop protection tools will result in higher food prices

> 90% of farmers and 75% of all Ohioans, including 78% of Republicans and 74% of Democrats, are concerned that litigation will lead to lower crop yields and higher food prices.

Ohioans want leaders who stand with farmers over trial lawyers

Methodology: This survey was written and administered by Penta Group Intelligence, an independent research firm. The results are based on a representative sample of 500 online and phone interviews of Ohio-based adults and 50 Ohioan farmers. The study also surveyed a national representative sample of 1,005 US adults and 550 additional farmers from 11 states. The study was conducted January 29 through February 18, 2025. The margin of error for the Ohio adult population is +/-4.38.
