MODERN AG ALLIANCE

PARTNERS SUPPORT PRESIDENT TRUMP'S DECISIVE ACTION ON PESTICIDES

Agricultural Retailers Association:

"Agricultural retailers see firsthand how disruptions to essential inputs create uncertainty for farmers and rural communities. The Executive Order's focus on strengthening domestic supply chains and maintaining access to key inputs helps support certainty at the farm level and reinforces the resilience of the nation's food system ... Agricultural retailers are prepared to work with USDA and other federal partners to ensure existing distribution channels continue to serve farmers efficiently." (Official Statement, 2/19/26)

American Farm Bureau Federation:

"AFBF appreciates the administration for affirming that food security is national security … Products reviewed and approved by the EPA enable farmers to protect the health of their crops while using fewer natural resources. A strong domestic supply chain reduces dependence on foreign imports and helps ensure continued access to tools that contribute to the success of farmers who grow the food and fiber America's families rely on." (Official Statement, 2/19/26)

American Soybean Association:

"President Trump signed an Executive Order to protect the domestic production of glyphosate & elemental phosphorus. ASA thanks POTUS for supporting U.S. #farmers & their access to critical tools they need to farm safely & efficiently" (Social Post, 2/19/26)

American Sugarbeet Growers Association and U.S. Beet Sugar Association:

"We are grateful for President Trump's foresight and decisive action. We cannot rely on other nations, such as China, for inputs critical to American food production and national security ... American sugarbeet farmers are hopeful that the President's action today will be followed by other meaningful actions that strengthen American farmers and consumers." (Official Statement, 2/19/26)

Illinois Soybean Association:

"President Trump signed an Executive Order to protect the domestic production of glyphosate & elemental phosphorus. Illinois Soybean thanks @POTUS for supporting Illinois #farmers & their access to critical tools they need to farm safely & efficiently." (Social Post, 2/19/26)

Modern Ag Alliance:

"The Trump Administration's decisive action affirms what America's farmers have known all along – pesticides, like glyphosate, are vital to a healthy, affordable domestic food supply. We thank the Administration for its continued leadership, and urge state and federal lawmakers to do their part to provide lasting certainty that these essential inputs will remain available for farmers across the country." (Official Statement, 2/20/26)

Missouri Corn:

Food security is national security. Corn farmers rely on reliable tools and tech to keep ag production strong & food prices affordable for everyday Americans. MCGA appreciates the efforts of @WhiteHous & @realDonaldTrump to prioritize domestic production of critical ag inputs. (Social Post, 2/20/26)

Missouri Soybeans:

"Thank you for highlighting how U.S. agriculture is a key pillar of our National Security plan. U.S. soybean farmers are facing many headwinds, and attacks on domestically-produced crop protection tools is one of many issues that need addressed." (Social Post, 2/19/26)

National Corn Growers Association:

Thanks to @POTUS for re-affirming the importance of glyphosate as a critical ag production tool. (Social Post, 2/20/26)

National Cotton Council:

"NCC supports efforts to strengthen domestic supply for the crop protection tools cotton growers rely on. We look forward to the leadership of Secretary Rollins as USDA implements this order so that we maintain a steady supply of key agricultural inputs necessary for delivering high-quality U.S. cotton." (Official Statement, 2/19/26)
